Saltbush White dorper Stud was founded on the importation of embryos from South Africa from the Studs of hennie Jacobs, Dries Wiese, Koos du toit and Leon Snyman.

Selection in the stud is for good muscle on a long well proportioned animal. The breeding stock must be able to perform on grazing alone with no supplementation. Up to 100 good quality rams are marketed each year and ewes are regularly available.

Semen and embryos can be provided under most export protocols.
