For more information/photos/options, also check the following link: <http://www.dryandratourism.org.au/places-to-stay.html> (I would recommend staying in Narrogin town itself, rather than electing to stay at one of the 'Farm Stay' options, as this might add a significant amount of travel every day.) We are approximately 10km out of Narrogin town (853 Manning Road, Narrogin Valley WA 6312)

There are some other options that can only be booked through Air BnB <https://www.airbnb.com.au/narrogin-australia/stays>

(Generally 3 bedroom houses, with shared facilities, if anyone is interested in coordinating their booking with other course attendees.)

Bear in mind that only morning/afternoon tea/ lunch is supplied as part of the course, and breakfast and evening meals would be at own expense in Narrogin. Evening meals are not available over the weekends at many of the accommodation establishments, but The Duke of York Hotel is open for meals every night.
